I did it for a better job.
I did it for my son.
I did it for a better future.

I earned my GED®.

Arturo Flores dropped out of school in 8th grade and turned to a life of drugs and crime. He chose to break the cycle and got sober, earned his GED credential and enrolled in college. He plans to earn his master's degree and work with gang-affiliated youth - to help them have a better future, too.

Arturo Flores

Time is running out!

The GED® test is changing January 1, 2014.

If you've successfully completed parts of the test, finish by December 18, 2013, or your scores will expire.

Contact your local adult education center today!

KENTUCKY
Adult Education
Your future starts here!

1-800-928-7323

www.facebook.com/KYAdultEducation

KYAE thanks McDonald's for its generous support of adult education in Kentucky since 2005.

i'm lovin' it®