The following was sent to program directors.

Next week is NAEFL Week!

As you are probably aware, next week is National Adult Education and Family Literacy Week (September 26-October 1).

At the most recent program directors' meeting, I believe KAACE distributed activity packets to each of you. As you do this activity with your students, I encourage you to take photos and post them to Facebook and submit them to your local newspapers. If you know when you will be doing the activity, you may want to contact your local newspaper staff in advance; they may be willing to cover the activity and you'll get some great, free publicity! Please remember to share that it is part of your NAEFL Week celebration.

Below are links to a couple of other things that may help you celebrate NAEFL Week:

- A local proclamation template, in case you would like to have the week proclaimed "______ County Adult Education Week," and
- Some potential Facebook posts that you may use throughout the week.

If there is anything else that I may assist you with to help you celebrate NAEFL Week, just let me know!
