Sign-up for a GED Manager™ Webinar this week: How to use your Interested Student List

Do you use GED Manager™? If you haven't logged in recently you may have missed upgrades to the system that make it easier to find and sort your student information. Below is information about two webinars GED Testing Service® is presenting this week to show you these enhancements.

Student-authorized GED Manager™ allows you to view the GED® test and Ready test™ scores for your students. Students grant this permission when they sign up at MyGED and since October, this has been easy for them to do.

All Kentucky program directors have been given access to GED Manager™. Program directors can decide who on their staff should have access and sign them up by sending those names and email addresses to GED@ky.gov.

Learn about the new enhancements. It may help you connect with some new students -- Rae Smith.

GEDPrep Connect™: Follow-up Training - Your Interested Student List

More than 84,000 GED® candidates have selected an adult education program during account creation on GED.com since October 2016, and they are waiting for you to contact them!

We will review the GED Manager™ reports that allow you to find the students' contact information, and how to update the information in the system to know when you have new students to contact.

Who should attend? This session is for adult educators and program managers who have access to GED Manager™ in states where students can elect to share scores with a program. This webinar will be recorded and posted on GED Manager™ for those who cannot attend.
